BACKGROUND INFORMATION : : : say it in your own words

From the beginning of Jesus' ministry, it was clear that He had a very different message than what the "experts" of the Law thought at that time. The Pharisees had lifted themselves up to a very prominent position among the people. The Law had developed into ridiculous traditions set by these leaders. By the time Jesus walked on the scene, the Pharisees had distorted the Scriptures to be something they were not intended to be. Jesus was correcting the misconceptions and teaching the people what God truly expected and wanted from them and for them. The religious leaders did not welcome Jesus' message of truth and love because it exposed their errors and faults. They said Jesus was a rebel because He was teaching against the Law of Moses, but Jesus said, "Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them" (Matthew 5:17, emphasis mine).

The Pharisees didn't like that very much; they enjoyed their self-proclaimed power and wanted to keep it that way. They joined the crowds following Jesus, not to listen and learn from Him but to find faults and ways to make Him falter. One Sabbath day, Jesus was teaching at the synagogue. The Pharisees and the teachers of the law were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus . . . (Luke 6:7). They watched Him closely to see if He would heal a crippled man because, according to them, the Law was against healing on the Sabbath. Jesus, of course, healed the man, and the Pharisees were furious. Then Jesus said to them, "I ask you, which is it right to do on the Sabbath day: to do good, or to do evil? Is it right to save a life or to destroy one?" (Luke 6:9 ICB)

BIBLE STORY CONTINUE

But the Pharisees and experts in the law rejected God’s purpose for themselves . . . (Luke 7:30). They were not interested in learning from Jesus, but that didn’t stop Jesus from trying. We are going to read one of Jesus’ parables (a story that has a message), which was directed at them. Would they get it? Let’s go to the Bible and find out.

The Pharisees enjoyed a prestigious place of honor, and they were too arrogant to hear the truth when spoken right to them. When they prayed, they really honored themselves: “Look at what I do. Look at what I did. Look at how good I am.” It was all about them.

MEMORYVERSE

The truth is, the Pharisees had no honor in the eyes of God. They puffed themselves up so much with all their accomplishments that they failed to see the sin in their lives. Their sin of pride was bigger than all the other sins they said they didn’t commit. You cannot come to God without first admitting that you are a sinner and then asking God for forgiveness. All the Pharisees saw was the way they perfectly kept the Law and traditions.

On the other hand, the tax collector was aware of his sin and was so undone that he couldn’t even ask God for anything except mercy. This man was ready to receive Jesus. This man was ready to

KEYPOINT

Fully rely on God for forgiveness.

As Christians, we should continue to walk humbly before the Lord. When you do something good for somebody, don’t show off what you’ve done; keep it a secret. The Lord knows what you’ve done, and He’s the only one who needs to know. Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up (James 4:10). You may get rewards here on earth, but the greatest rewards are those waiting for you in heaven.

BIBLE STORY CONTINUE

Don't be like the Pharisee. The reasons you do something good are far more important than what you do. If you are constantly doing good deeds just so everyone sees how good you are, you are exalting yourself like a Pharisee and have already received your praise from others—that's the only reward you'll get.

MEMORYVERSE

“For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.”—Luke 18:14b

Continue to do good and just things. It is perfectly OK to do well and receive awards and recognition. But do it for God because you want to honor Him. Don't forget, it is God who gave you the talents and gifts in the first place. So, you should honor Him by always doing your best, and giving the honor back to God. The way to do that is by humbly thanking Him. And if you find yourself seeking your own honor, then ask Him for forgiveness.

LET'S PRAY ::: say

PRAYER

*Dear Lord,
Lord, we come before You like the tax collector admitting our many sins. We ask for forgiveness and mercy. We thank and honor You for all our gifts and talents, and we pray that we will always honor You with them. We praise Your holy name, Jesus.
Amen.*
